

The Principal's Role in Dropout Prevention: Seven Key Principles

by Steven W. Edwards and Rebecca Edwards

NEW! From the National Dropout Prevention Center/Network

“Who can impact the school dropout rate the most?” ask the authors to this newest publication in the Effective Strategies for School Improvement series. Their answer: “Arguably, the principal.” This publication outlines Seven Key Principles for reducing school dropouts, which permits those in leadership positions to examine their overall responsibilities and daily activities to see where they can implement these for school improvement.

Learn about these minimal-cost strategies that will increase student engagement and parental involvement while improving school attendance and discipline.
